IDLENESS AND CRIME.

After careful study it has been announced that idleness is the most fruitful source of crime. This conclusion is not in the nature of a new discovery, but as the result of an exhaustive investigation it is nevertheless important. It is claimed that the reform school serves a useful purpose in teaching refractory boys, who would otherwise drift into a criminal career, useful occupations, thereby fitting them to earn their own livelihood. But there is another side to this question. If it is necessary for the public welfare that inmates of reform schools should be kept at work, and taught trades, it is surely just as important that the inmates of our state prisons proper should be treated in the same way. But as a matter of fact they are not. Outside of breaking rock at Folsom, and making jute bags at San Quentin the prisoners are maintained in comparative idleness. From the standpoint of penologists they hold fast to their criminal record, with no other recourse after serving their term than to continue in the ways of the transgressor. Breaking rock and making jute bags are occupations for which there is but limited employment outside of the walls of the prisons. They do not afford them a chance to change their ways after leaving prison. Idleness is their destined lot, and crime is the result.

With all the talk of prison reform no steps have been taken toward remedying this evil. The members of the state board are outspoken in declaring this to be the most urgent and practical way to redeem the criminals from evil ways. But the cry is raised in organized labor ranks that to put them to employment in the mechanical trades, and selling the products of prison labor in the state, would be unjust to free labor. And the politicians are dumb in the presence of such opposition; although everyone must realize the injustice of such contentions. Our prisons ought to be made almost self-sustaining, at the same time placing many of the prisoners in the path of honest industry after their discharge if this demagogic policy of non-interference with free labor were cast aside. As it is, the very prisons are but nurseries of indolence and consequently help to confirm the convicts in the path of crime. This is a terrible indictment, that crime is actually fostered under the policy of the government, too cowardly to run the gauntlet of labor agitators on such a vital question. We doubt if there is another state in the Union that allows such a disgraceful state of prison management. In a number of states convicts are actually hired out by the state to private employers. The labor of the prisoners is made a source of considerable revenue to the government. This system would hardly work in California. At the same time there is no sound reason why prison labor and convict made goods should not be made as profitable to the state as possible. To maintain prisoners in idleness is unfair to the taxpayers, and unjust to the convicts themselves.

DON'T TRY TO HIDE THEIR AGES.

In Japan no woman is ashamed of her age, but she tells it out in the arrangement of her hair, so that all the world may know.

Between the ages of 9 and 15 girls wear their hair interlaced with red crepe in a semicircle around her head, the forehead being left free, with a curl at each side. From 15 till 30 the hair is worn high on the forehead and gathered at the back into a butterfly or fan shape, and is decorated at the back with silver cord and perhaps with colored balls. After the age of 30 women wear their tresses coiled upon a tortoise shell pin.

Different styles of hair dressing are affected by maidens, wives and widows, and a glance will tell whether a widow intends to remain faithful to the memory of her husband late or whether she would like to marry again.

RUSSIA'S NAVAL DEFEAT.

The straits of Korea has been the scene of the greatest naval engagement of modern times. There the Japanese and Russians fleets, under admirals Togo and Rojestvensky, engaged in a death struggle for supremacy in Oriental waters with the outcome that the Czar's navy has been practically annihilated.

Pull particulars of this crushing defeat of Russia's much vaunted Baltic fleet are not to hand, but enough is known that all hope of Russia redeeming herself from the unbroken series of disasters in this conflict with Japan has vanished. Her battleships have been either sunk, captured or dispersed. It is claimed that nineteen war vessels have been lost. The loss to Japan is not known, but probably the gain in captured Russian war ships will more than offset her losses. The last hope of Russia has gone glimmering. She cannot cope with Japan on land or sea. If Russia does not realize this fact, the other powers certainly do. It is humiliating to be so disastrously beaten by the despised "little brown men." The longer the war drags on, it is evident the more drubbing Russia will get, and the harder the terms of peace will be when the end comes. This war eclipses all records of the past history of Russia. She was never so whipped since she emerged from barbarism into a great world power. It will throw her back for a century, and probably dispose forever of her dream of supremacy in the far east. And the world will breathe easier for this unlooked for result.

Persons afflicted with piles should be careful at this season of the year. Hot weather and bad drinking water contribute to the conditions which make piles more painful and dangerous. DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve stops the pain, draws out the soreness and cures. Get the genuine, bearing the name of E. C. DeWitt and Co. Sold by W. H. Boydston.

BOYCOTT NONSENSE.

In these days we often hear that, for some real or imaginary offending, this or that business man is to be boycotted. Those who deal in such threats evidently do not understand the import of the term. As a weapon of warfare the boycott is getting to be odious. The fact is, this method of trying to get even is much more apt to injure the would-be boycotter than the boycotted. Even the labor unions, with whom it was at one time a favorite weapon, are abandoning it as a flat failure. Business men no longer fear it. They know that the spirit of fairness in the majority of men rebels against such tactics, and will prompt them to deal with a house under the ban in preference to any other, and for the sole reason that it has been so specially proclaimed for sacrifice. It is a common occurrence in the large cities for a man to travel a mile or more out of his way in order to patronize a boycotted restaurant. Not because he expects better service; not even as an indorsement of the course of the business house in the differences with the employees. The merits of the controversy are no figure in this discrimination. It is simply the protest of the individual against the boycott abolition. This sort of malicious mischief, under the garb of organization has had its day, and may well be relegated to the graveyard of discredited methods. Let it rest in peace.

SUIT OVER SHEEP.

The case of Harvey S. Blood vs. Barney Barnequet has been on trial in the superior court since Wednesday. Plaintiff sues for the recovery of $3500, alleged to be balance due on the proceeds of sale of a band of sheep. The case arose in Alpine county, where the parties were in a partnership in the sheep business and pastured stock there in summer. The cause of action originated in 1901, $2000 was paid according to plaintiff's story on this transaction June of that year. There is an array of legal talent engaged in the trial. William M. Thornburg and Solinsky and Wehe for plaintiff, and Henry C. McPike for defendant. The case is still on trial, before the court without a jury.

The defense contended that other payments had been made, and the full amount due had been paid.

The testimony was finished yesterday afternoon, when the attorneys agreed to compromised the case, the terms to be arranged by stipulation.

Sunday Card Playing Laws.

There was a time when people in England were forbidden by law to play at cards, even in their own houses, on Sunday. In the royal proclamation against vice, profaneness and immorality, read every session and assize, is the following passage: "And we do hereby strictly enjoin and prohibit all our loving subjects, of what degree or quality soever, from playing on the Lord's day at dice, cards or any other game whatsoever, either in public or private houses or other places whatsoever."

Enlarged Finger Joints.

Enlarged finger joints are the source of annoyance and mortification. Sometimes they are caused by pulling the fingers to make the joints "crack." Sometimes they are the result of hard work, rheumatism or gout. They may be relieved by light rotary massage (friction) around and around and around on the joints with the thumb and fingers and stroking upward, accompanied by the application of oil of wintergreen.

Value of Decayed Forests.

The decayed vegetation of forests has furnished to the fields their present fertility, upon which man depends for food. In the tree growth of virgin woods and in the floor of rotted foliage beneath are stored the accumulations of centuries. Nature does not care whether this growth is useful to the human race or not. It is left for us to encourage the growth of such trees as are thus valuable to the exclusion of others. Thus an economical use is made of the resources at hand, and a new conception of the forest arises. The forest primeval becomes "woodlands," while the new "forest" includes only cultivated woods.

The Pallindrome.

A pallindrome is a line or phrase that reads the same backward as forward. The Latin language is full of such linguistic freaks, the English has but few. One at least is inimitable. It represents our first parent politely introducing himself to Eve in these words: "Madam, I'm Adam."

From the Latin we have, "Roma tibi subito motibus ibit amor" (Rome, love will come to you suddenly with violence).

Terms.

"Yes, if I had a couple of thousand dollars I could square my circle of creditors."—Dallas News.

Soft.

"Don't you think the custom of throwing rice at a newly married couple is idiotic?" asked the duffy haired maid.

"Sure," answered the savage old bachelor. "Much would be a great deal more appropriate."—Chicago News.

Ayer's

Why is it that Ayer's Hair Vigor does so many remarkable things? Because it is a hair food. It feeds the hair, puts new life into it. The hair cannot keep from growing. And gradually all the old, rich color of early youth comes back to gray hair.

When I first used Ayer's Hair Vigor, I lost my hair, and my hair began to grow again. I used it for a long time, and my hair is now as thick and as black as when I was young. I can recommend it to all who are troubled with falling hair, or who wish to keep their hair from turning gray.

Teaming from the mountains has not commenced as yet. The season in this respect is unusually backward, owing to the soft condition of the roads on account of the late spring storms. The outlook favors a lively business in logs from the upper country. Many thousands of timbers, and other mining supplies, have been contracted for.

The traction engine carrying the three transformers on three trucks damaged the bridge near Yoak's place at Butte City on Monday so badly that it had to be practically rebuilt. The load got over all right, but the engine was unable to make the return trip until the bridge had been fixed. A force was set to work Tuesday to repair it.

A band of Brazilian gypsies, invaded the town this week, on the fortune telling business. These wandering people seem to be getting over plentiful in the mining counties. Business in their line is brisk in the camps of the mother lode section.

W. P. Peek, this week received the sad news of the death of his brother, Frederick Franklin Peek, near Polo, Illinois. He died suddenly on the 18th of May. He was out in the barnyard trying to break a colt, when it is thought that a blood vessel of the brain burst, causing almost instant death. His wife was standing a short distance from him when he fell, and before she could reach him he was dead. His age was 73 years 2 months and 16 days. He was one of the early settlers in Ogles county, Illinois, his parents having moved there in 1838, the brother succeeding to the old homestead upon which his parents settled in those pioneer days. In 1861 he was in Calaveras county, Cal. remaining three years, but returning to Illinois to take charge of the farm upon his father's death. Besides his brother in this town, he leaves three brothers and two sisters, the latter being residents of Illinois.

JACKSON POSTOFFICE.

F. H. Duden last Monday received official notice of his appointment as postmaster of Jackson, accompanied by the necessary blanks for bonds, etc., to be filled out and sent to Washington. These were filled out Tuesday and forwarded to the department at once. Upon the approval of the bond the commission will be issued, and the newly appointed postmaster will thereupon take charge. Mr. Duden went below yesterday, having terminated his employment at the Kennedy the end of the month. He intends to purchase a new and up-to-date outfit, with modern boxes, and re-arrange the office so that at any hour of the day or night persons having boxes can get their mail.

The sureties on the official bond are J. D. Mason, Alex. Ender, R. Webb, Geo. W. Brown, C. M. Kelly, Geo. Tucker, W. E. Kent, James Harris, Wm. Tam and P. L. Cassinelli.

STAPLES CHEERFUL.

Dr. F. N. Staples, who is awaiting sentence of death for murder in the first degree, in taking the life of his wife on August 31, 1904, is seeming not greatly disturbed over the situation. After the shock following the verdict of the jury, which necessitated the employment of watchers for a couple of days thereafter, he has been outwardly, at least, cheerful and confident of a new trial. He spends a good deal of time in singing, which certainly is not a symptom of depression or hopelessness. His attorneys are at work, preparing the bill of exception to be presented with a motion for a new trial. This will come up on the 24th instant.

DECORATION DAY.

Decoration day was freely observed by the relatives of deceased persons buried in the cemeteries of Jackson in decorating the last resting places of their departed ones with floral offerings. The only organized observance was by Rathbone Lodge K. of P. In the afternoon they assembled to the number of over 30, and preceded by the band, marched to the public graveyard, where about twelve of their members are interested. Each grave was visited by the members in a body, and three bouquets were laid thereupon. There were no literary exercises; simply calling the name of the deceased one, and the placing of the floral tributes thereon. The spectators with bare heads witnessed the impressive ceremony. They also decorated the graves of ex-union soldiers in the same manner.

MINING NOTES.

Kennedy—At this mine, we are able to state that the drift at the 2750 level, which has been run west for several months, encountered the ore body on Tuesday. For several weeks the face had reached the point where it was thought the ledge would be struck, and as the work was pushed far beyond the point, misgivings were indulged in about the outlook. All fears have proved baseless. The ore is there, and from what has been seen it is believed to be of fair grade. This gives 200 feet of stopping ground. The shaft is now to be sunk 200 feet deeper, making a total depth of 3000 feet.

Bay State.—We are pleased to state that the shutdown of this property is merely temporary. The rock is of fair grade, averaging about $1 per ton, and the ore body is from four to seven feet thick, with a shoot 150 in length.

An expert in the interest of C. D. Lane, the well known mining man and capitalist, has been examining some mining properties around Plymouth, especially the Orr ledge, which shows up very strong from the crop-pings and the superficial work that has been done upon it. South of the shaft the ledge has a width of 8 feet, and extends 250 feet in length. It is claimed that this is the continuation of the Empire and Alpine lode.

F. M. Potter has sold a half interest in his ranch near Plymouth for mining purposes.

Horn.—G. W. Horn has been doing some work on the Horn mine, near the Defender. He sunk a shaft 25 feet, showing up ledge matter five feet wide. He is hampered in his operations from lack of funds, as the assessment recently levied upon the stock only left a few dollars for development work, after paying the indebtedness.

Fredrick and Leslie, who are opening the Modoc mine in Pioneer district, are crushing over 100 tons of ore at the Mace mill. It is reported to be yielding well.

Mr. Congdon, who is the heaviest dealer in soapstone in the state, and who was here about two months ago, and inspected the tale and soapstone deposits hereabouts, came up to the city last week. He had four men working Saturday on the Moon ranch, two miles north of town, the object being to locate a workable deposit of this mineral. They succeeded in uncovering one ledge that promises to prove valuable, and to open up a new source of industry, under the stimulus of the railroad.

The new Zeile hoisting works is all finished, ready for making the change. It is probable that the change will not be made until next month, as it will involve a shutdown of two weeks.

DRAMATIC ENTERTAINMENT.

The Jackson Dramatic Company, composed of members of the Social and Athletic Club, presented the four act drama of "The Bank Cashier," in Love's hall, Saturday evening last. There was a large house, the reserved and other seats being all taken. The play was under the management of our local stage man, George Luse, and everything passed off in the most successful manner. The cast of characters was as follows:

Phillip Templeton (alias Bradon) Edm. Marucci.
Paul Kingston, paying teller, S. F. Dal Porto.
Ichabod Slick, lawyer etc, Ernest Lemin.
Jacob Sharp, lawyer, etc, J. Parker.
Blinker Baker, poor but romantic. Maurice Newman.
Robert Sinclair, wealthy miner, J. Fontenrose.
Dennis O'Hara, one of the finest, Chas. Tam.
Detective Lambert, of the central office, Charles Tam.
Edith Sinclair, daughter of Robert. Ila Ginochio.
Lucy, her maid, Mamie Scapucci.
Susan Goodwill, Gwendie Williams.
Biddy McGuire, Henrietta Griffin.
The character were all very creditably sustained, and everything went through without a jar. The proceeds, amounting to a snug sum after paying all expenses, will go for the benefit of the club.

FOURTH OF JULY CELEBRATION.

The committee having the fourth of July celebration in charge held a meeting last week, and appointed a committee on decoration as follows: W. H. Boydson, A. Golberg and C. Gebhardt. Other committees will be appointed immediately after the meeting on Tuesday next.

The election of the goddess of liberty will likely be made by popular vote.

Everything is moving along smoothly. Special attention will be given to the amusement program, as it is realized that upon this depends mainly the success of the affair. To keep the visitors interested from opening to close of the day is the point that will be kept steadily in view.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Robert Scott, formerly of the Ledger office, has joined L. F. Stinson, and leased the Amador Record for two years, the proprietor, H. W. Woods, having been appointed clerk of the appellate court in Sacramento, and unable therefore to give his personal attention to the newspaper business. The new firm took possession this week.

The Ledger this week received direct from Chicago a large supply of newspaper and all kinds of job stock. The invoice consists of a ton and a half of material, including billheads, letter heads, envelopes, statements, flat papers, and indeed every description of stock for high grade and ordinary printing. By buying from eastern manufacturers we are in a position to give lower rates for work than any office in the county, and compete with city prices.

Tommy the four year old child of Mr. and Mrs. George Wishard, was bitten in the face last Monday by a dog belonging to Tony Rickert. He had been accustomed to play with a couple of dogs at his own place, and started to play with the Kickert dog, when the animal bit him in two places in the face. The wounds were not deep. A doctor was sent for and cauterized the wound. The child is doing well, and no serious results are likely.

An artist named Buchanan came here several weeks ago and made arrangement to paint drops curtains for Love's hall in Jackson and also for Levaggi's hall in Sutter Creek. He depended for remuneration upon what he received for advertising space on the curtains. He brought another man with him who assisted in the work, and hired J. Mortimer to do the lettering. After completing the work and collecting what was due him, he left Sunday last, and has not been heard of since. Divers creditors for labor and board are mourning his absence.

THE DELINQUENT TAX LIST.

The delinquent tax list is published on our outside pages. It is the longest document of this nature from the tax collectors' office that has been published for several years. It contains over 220 names. This is over ten per cent of the total number of taxpayers in the county. About one property holder out of every nine on an average is on the defaulting record. This is anything but a creditable showing. It will be noticed that a very heavy proportion of the delinquents consists of small property holders owing less than $5 for taxes.

It serves to bring into strong relief the fact that the small holders have the hardest time in scraping together the few dollars necessary to square themselves on the books of the county. It must be explained, however, that many of the delinquents appear on the list for failure to pay poll tax. All those owing $4.50 belong to this class. They have paid their property tax, but failing to pay poll tax their property is advertised just the same as though they had failed to pay any portion of taxes. So that those holding tax receipts, who find their names published as delinquents, will understand where the trouble lies. This is the first year we believe that the practice has been adopted of advertising property on account of poll tax. But the law is plain enough. The poll tax is a lien against the real estate, precisely the same as the regular property tax. A non-property holder can avoid paying poll tax; but the property holder cannot; he must pay or stand the risk of losing his realty for failure to do so. Last year the delinquent list comprised 180 old names, so that there is an increase of 40 names in this year's list.

DEATH OF FRANK GUERRA.

Frank Guerra, an old time resident of Jackson, died in the Sisters hospital in Los Angeles on the 16th of May. He had been in the hospital for two months prior to his death. The disease that carried him to the grave was cancer of the tongue. It developed about 8 months ago, and spread through the tissues to a fatal ending with great rapidity. For the last two months he was unable to talk. When the disease seized him he was in New Mexico operating a mining claim, which he held in partnership with a man named Gee. He visited Los Angeles several times for surgical treatment after the appearance of the malady, but the skill of the doctors was unable to stay its progress. His family in Jackson was notified of his serious sickness, and Miss Louisa Guerra left San Francisco for Los Angeles on the 16th, only to find that her father had passed to the beyond before her arrival there. The funeral was held Friday, under the auspices of the Elks and Knights of Pythias, of which orders the deceased was a member. The remains were buried at Los Angeles.

Frank Guerra was born at Mokelumne Hill, October 7, 1852, but passed most of his life in Amador county. He leaves a wife and three daughters, all grown up, in Jackson, also an aged father, and a brother, Albert Guerra. Deceased left his home here about 15 years ago, for Arizona. He has been here since then about 12 years ago, when his eldest daughter Louisa underwent a serious surgical operation. He has been operating mines on his own account in New Mexico and Arizona, and it is thought by his family that he has considerable mining interests in those territories. His daughter Louisa, who is employed in San Francisco returned to Jackson after the funeral, but left for the city again last Sunday, expecting to be called again to Los Angeles on matters relating to her father's estate. In what shape he left affairs is not known at present, and no will has been discovered so far.

ANTI-SALOON MEETING.

A meeting was held in Lone last Saturday evening, under the auspices of the anti-saloon league of that town. The recently enacted law forbidding any saloons within two miles of a reformatory was the incentive to the gathering, and the topic of discussion. The outcome was the adoption of a resolution requesting that the law be enforced. The secretary forwarded a communication to sheriff Norman naming all the saloons in lone as within the proscribed limits of the Preston school, and requesting the officer to take action to enforce the law. The sheriff was out of the county when the letter was received. Of course, the sentiment is in favor of carrying out the law, no matter how absurd and arbitrary the enactment may seem to be. To legislate thousand of men out of business in the manner set forth in the newly revised code is a harsh proceeding; but it is law, and must stand until repealed or pronounced unconstitutional by the supreme court.
